

I don't mind telemarketers calling-but they persist when you tell them that your not interested and then you have to get rude and angry. It always seems to happen at dinner time whether that is 5 6 or 7 pm. If I want to buy something I can manage to go to the store on mine own Thank you